TERROR REIGNS

Dublin Scene of Rifle
Fusillades and Bursting Bombs

Dublin, April 4.—The first clash between mutineers of the Irish Republican army and Irish free state troops occurred early today when the Irish free state troops were attacked in two separate districts of the city by rebels. The mutineers opened fire with revolvers, which was returned by the soldiers supporting the Irish provisional government. Finally the free staters charged with fixed bayonets, putting the rebels to flight. The free staters sustained no casualties. The casualties of the mutineers, if any, are not known.

Banks and public buildings were under heavy guard of Irish free state troops today following a wild night of terror when the streets echoed with rifle fusillades and the bursting of bombs.

Despite the wild firing of rifles and revolvers, no casualties were reported. Parts of the city were thrown into panic, the residents believing that the republicans were attempting their long heralded coup against the Irish provisional government and that civil war had broken out.

POLICE DETAIN TWO MEN IN CONNECTION WITH FIRE WHICH GUTS ELYRIA BUILDINGS

Blaze Early Tuesday Wipes Out Five Business Places and Threatens Church—Authorities Think Explosion of Hooch Started Disastrous Conflagration

Elyria, O., April 4.—Police are detaining two men in connection with the fire which today gutted two buildings, completely wiped out five business places, threatened to destroy the St. Paul's Evangelical Church on one side and drove out eight families from a three-story brick apartment building on the other side. The loss is estimated at $75,000.

The E. G. Davidson garage, Brown Battery Company, Palta Bros. Electrical Store, Remy Sign Company and the Reed Furniture Manufacturing Company were completely wiped out.

The fire which consumed the two-story frame building occupying two-thirds of a block, followed an explosion and police are baffled that two buildings, although separated by a twelve-foot alley, both burst out in flames simultaneously.

Police in responding to the fire found a man whose face was burned. He was detained. The man said he had been burned by a gas explosion at his home. Several hours later the detained man's employer was likewise detained by police. The latter several months ago had been arrested on a charge of manufacturing booze and police are working on the theory that an explosion of a

Huge Vessel Swept By Flames at Hoboken, Tuesday—
Firemen Battle to Keep Blaze From Oil Tank
Which If It Ignites Will Destroy Ship.

New York, April 4.—Fire, which swept the refrigerating plant of the former U. S. army transport Mongolia in a Hoboken, N. J. drydock was extinguished this afternoon. Hundreds of workmen were engaged in converting the transport into a peace time passenger ship, but all managed to escape from the vessel which was quickly enveloped in a dense cloud of smoke.

New York, April 4.—The liner Mongolia, which as an armed American steamship, fired the first shot in the war at a U-boat on April 19, 1917, was being swept by flames today as she lay at her pier at Hoboken, where she was undergoing repairs.

Fire was discovered between decks by workers who boarded her this morning preparatory to starting work below decks. When the vanguard of the men opened hatch six, they were met by a terrific burst of smoke and flames, investigation proved that the fire was burning fiercely throughout her entire hold. Edward Krossinsky, a boilermaker's helper was removed from the ship in an unconscious condition after he had descended into a hatch and was trapped by the fire.

WILL PROBE SPECTACULAR
FIRE IN CLEVELAND

Cleveland, April 4.—State authorities today will begin a probe to determine the cause of yesterday afternoon's spectacular fire on Euclid Avenue, in the heart of the downtown shopping district, which damaged the stock of the Adler Millinery company and adjoining stores and held up traffic for several hours. The loss is estimated at $50,000. Seven persons were overcome by smoke but all have since recovered.

and heavy smoke. He yelled for aid. A fellow worker, placing a wet bur-lap sack over his head was lowered into the hold and succeeded in bringing out the unconscious form of Krossinsky, who was taken to a hospital. His rescuer narrowly escaped suffocation.

Soon after the flames were discovered, all available men and apparatus at the plan, of the Tietjen and Lang dry dock company at whose pier the Mongolia was being overhauled, were summoned to fight the blaze. Despite their efforts the flames continued unabated and second alarm brought out the local fire department.

In addition, aid was asked of New York and two fire boats responded and soon were at work pouring tons of water into the burning vessel.

A number of other ships were at adjacent docks but were given protection by the combined fire companies at the scene and were said to be in no danger. Extra details of police were called out to clear the way in the vicinity of the dock.

Mainly because a shot fired from aboard the ship which knocked away the periscope of the first German warship to feel the sting of American fire, damaged the upper part of the conning tower and killed the commander, the Mongolia's name rang in the early annals of the war. On that occasion she was operated by the Atlantic Transport Line and was in command of Captain Emory Rice. Later she was operated by the International Mercantile Company.

The attack occurred at 5:20 a. m. ten miles south of South Fore Land in the English channel and the initial efforts of American gunners on board sped true to the mark. The German U-boat commander who was on the deck of his boat, was killed.

Efforts of fireboats and hundreds of men summoned to attack the blaze were centered in keeping the tank from spreading to a huge tank containing 260,000 gallons of oil. The tank runs almost the entire length of the ship and the ignition would mean instant doom for the Mongolia which is an oil burner.

Firemen were flooding the oil compartments and the danger of an explosion was imminent. Not thirty feet away is the Mongolia's sistership, the Manchuria.

The ship has a tonnage of 14,650. The fire is believed to have been caused from a spark from an acetylene burner falling into a pile of debris.

Uncle Sam Will Operate and Develop Project Because of Its Military Advantage in Time of War—To Rush Through Appropriation.

Washington, April 4.—Uncle Sam and not Henry Ford will operate and develop Muscle Shoals and Ford's offer will be quietly sidetracked, according to plans laid today by Republican leaders when the senate agriculture committee began final consideration of the matter.

It was agreed that an appropriation sufficient to complete, Wilson dam should be rushed through congress at the earliest opportunity and Ford thereby eliminated from the situation which has proven a vexatious political problem for the Republican leaders.

It was contended that, if only because of the possibilities as a preparedness measure, the Muscle Shoals nitrate plant should be retained and not permitted to slip into the control of a private individual. It was argued that its future value, from a military standpoint far exceeded its commercial possibilities for the manufacture of fertilizer.

Democratic senators were prepared however to renew their fight for the acceptance of Ford's offer, and a hot battle over it in the senate was anticipated before the Republican succeeded in carrying out their plan.

Republican members of the "agricultural bloc" were reported to be

EIGHT ARRESTED
WHEN YOUNG GIRL
IS HELD CAPTIVE

Rescue Follows Attempt to Snare Friend In Apartment.

Chicago, April 4.—Seven men and a woman are under arrest here today in a plot to kidnap Martha J. Janicek, 16, daughter of an Oak Park minister. White slavery is believed to have been the motive of the abduction plot.

The girl was leaving the office where she worked last Saturday evening when a young man accosted her and suggested an evening's entertainment, she told the police. On his representation that he would obtain an automobile to drive her home, she said, she accompanied him to an apartment, on the west side. There, the girl declares, she was held prisoner without food for two days.

The man and woman told her on Sunday night, Miss Janicek said, that they had arranged to sell her to a roadhouse but that if she would get another girl for them they would pay her a commission. She telephoned a girl friend, who told Miss Janicek's father and he told the police. A raid on the flat, liberation of the girl and arrest of her alleged abductors followed.

CONGRESS COLD
ON LEWIS' PLAN TO TAKE MINES

Little Hope, That Such a Plan Could Be Put Through, Felt

END NOT IN SIGHT

Operators and Workers
Not Ready to Recede
From Their Stand.

Washington, April 4.—The recommendation of John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, that the government take over the coal mines and operate them in the interest of the public, as the only possible cure for the ills with which the industry is affected, left congress cold today.

Even the most ardent advocates of governmental ownership entertained no hopes that such a program could be put through, although many members of congress are convinced that sooner or later, as Lewis said, some such remedy will have to be found.

Indications increased today that the coal strike is to be a long drawn out controversy. Testimony from both sides, as brought out by congressional investigation, disclosed that the coal operators will not enter into any country-wide wage agreement and as for the miners' testimony has been equally positive that they will not take any state or local agreements and will agree to settlement only on a nation-wide basis.

The positiveness and apparent determination on both sides left congressional investigators in somewhat of a quandary today, although they pursued their inquiry in to conditions leading up to the controversy, Lewis again was the chief witness.

A pet plan of some members of congress was emphatically rejected by the miners' chief. This scheme contemplated the creation of a governmental agency, clothed with authority to fix wages and regulate working conditions—a sort of permanent peace and arbitration body.

"It will not do," said Lewis. "When the government extends its powers to deprive its free citizens of their birth right, as such a tribunal would do, you would find that it would operate most unsuccessfully. It is wrong in theory for no government has the right to say what hours and for what wages a man shall work. The miners are not favorable to the creation of any governmental tribunal empowered to fix wages and regulate working hours. The very theory is repugnant to them."

Lewis will leave the capital today for New York following his appearance before the house labor committee. The miners' chief apparently was in an optimistic frame of mind, today considering the situation along the central competitive "front." "All my reports," he said, "are excellent. They show a 100 per cent walkout and every indication points to it remaining so."

U. S. ARMY OFFICER SHOT AND KILLED
AT HOME OF OKLAHOMA FINANCIER

Lieut. Co. Paul Ward Beck, Commandant of Post Field, Fort Sill, Dies as Result of Bullet Wound—Former Judge Held By Police.

Oklahoma City, Okla., April 4.—A struggle which ended with the blinding flash of a revolver and a choking cry of pain, brought death here today to Lieut. Colonel Paul Ward Beck, commandant of Post field, Fort Sill, nationally known in army circles and prominent in society.

He was slain at the home of Jean P. Day, former state supreme court judge and prominent Oklahoma financier.

It was Judge Day's hand which held the weapon, but the shooting, according to a statement being investigated by police, was accidental. The weapon was discharged, it is said, as Day attempting to strike the army officer over the head after he had found Mrs. Day struggling in Beck's embrace.

Judge Day had returned to his home after taking a party of guests to their homes, following a card party, when the shooting occurred.

According to police judge Day found his wife struggling in the arms of the army officer. He did not attempt to shoot him but struck at him with the revolver which he exploded.

The tragedy came as the aftermath of a card party held last night at the Day home. There were several guests all close friends of the family. Lieut. Colonel Beck was among the party and was a guest at the Day home, having come here from the flying field at Fort Sill.

NO BREAK SEEN IN COAL MINERS'
RANKS TUESDAY

Strike Reported One Hundred Per Cent
Effective.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 4.—Strike of the United Mine Workers, according to all reports received here, continues 100 per cent effective in the great central competitive field which produces by far the greater part of the nation's soft coal, and in the hard coal fields.

A considerable number of non-union miners were reported to have joined the strike.

The offer of several independent anthracite companies, to grant the strikers' wage demands if they would return to work immediately was regarded in union circles, today as a decisive victory for the miners.

Aside from the shooting affray at Royal, W. Va., where state troops are on guard today, there have been no reports of serious attempts at violence in the nation-wide strike.

At union headquarters continuance of work by miners in some states was explained in this fashion.

Union officials are not opposed to continuance of work by negro miners in Alabama, who had long been idle because of difficulties in that field. They likewise, it was stated, are not opposed to union men working in West Virginia, storm zone of unionism, where many men have long been out of work.

Tennessee miners are considered automatically removed from the union by their action in continuing work because, it was explained, the mine workers are not a party to the contract in force there.

Western Kentucky miners are authorized to continue work because of an overlapping contract there which has a year to run.

Styles BY LENORE

To the already interesting girdles, new interest is added by various novelties which are featured in the new dresses shown at the recent openings in Paris, one of the most amusing of these was formed of humming birds placed close together in a row, their backs turned outwards. Woe, woe, to an audacious swain!

Brilliant lacquered ribbons are used, and delightful ornaments are fashioned of straw, which is used in narrow or wide widths, with ribbons that are supplied they may be used as easily as satin or velvet. This it is which gives so much charm and individuality to the dark blue crepe marocain afternoon gown worn by the comfortable looking lady in the sketch. The deep "V" neck and elongated side panels will prove graceful and slenderizing for a stout figure.

BEAUTY CHATS

ANSWERED LETTERS

Miss E. T.—Cold sores or fever blisters can be healed by applications of nitre and water. The proportions will be about twice the strength used when taking the same mixture internally to allay feverish conditions.

Constant Reader—Smooth out the line you have made by quinting and stop the habit. To do this you should massage the forehead using a cold cream, which should be followed up by smoothing the line as if it had been ironed. Cover with a small piece of court plaster which will serve the purpose of reminding you each time you quint. A few treatments of this kind should break the habit but if you are in need of glasses and are staring because of this, you must consult your oculist.

Rose—If you send me a stamped addressed envelope, I shall be glad to mail you the formula for the skin bleach.

Arthur—As you have given the yeast treatment a good test and the pimples are no better, you should discontinue it and consult a doctor as to the cause of your trouble.

Alma—Since you have been reckless it is likely you have done something which has caused this sudden appearance of white hairs. However, you can correct it by encouraging a healthy action of the scalp through a daily massage, when new hair will grow and these dead ones will drop out.

Worried—A small bust is much preferred to a large one and at 17 you may expect, at least, five more years in which to attain your development.

Olive—At 19 years of age, any tendency toward forming lines in the face can be eradicated easily. Your skin is probably very dry and a daily application of a good cold cream will soften and nourish it, when these tiny lines should be disappear.

Anxious—I shall be glad to mail you the formula for blackheads if you send a stamped addressed envelope. Carolyn—The hair tonic formula which was published in the "Chats" will correct the tendency toward dandruff, besides building up the health of the scalp and hair.

A. S. F.—If the holes left from squeezing out blackheads are very large, they will require treatment from a dermatologist to remove them. The smaller pits will disappear as the skin improves.

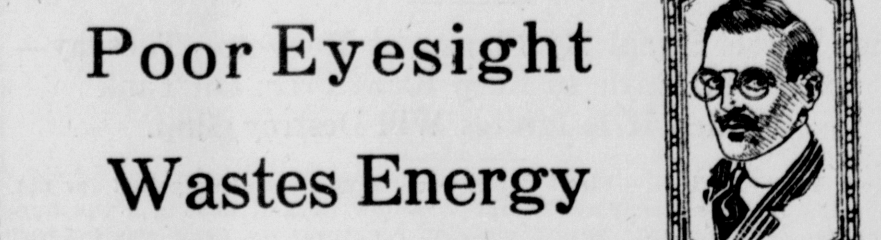

Constant Reader—The eyelash tonic can be mixed at home, but it would be more convenient to have your druggist put it up for you.

Aglo—As the natural shade of your hair is auburn, henna will be the proper coloring for you to use on the part that is turning. Henna is a tonic for the hair, so it cannot injure the scalp; if you apply the hot henna paste only to the hair that needs coloring, the balance need not be affected by any change in the tint from its natural shade.

Tomorrow—Curing a Corn.

TO CONFER DEGREE AT JUBILEE APRIL 26 AT COLUMBUS

Columbus, O., April 4.—Quar-

H., which will confer the first degree on a large class of candidates at the Jubilee celebration of the Order in the Coliseum at the State Fair Grounds April 26. It has appeared in Detroit, Indianapolis, Buffalo, Toledo, Dayton, Canton, Xenia, Columbus, and many other cities of Ohio. Its initiatory work is said to be without a peer in Odd Fellowship and its services are constantly sought.

In addition to the degree staff it is expected that several hundred others will come to Columbus, from Washington C. H. for the Jubilee exercises. A parade will be given at 6 p. m., Eastern Time, to be followed by the degree work in the Coliseum. Eastin of St. Joseph, Mo., grand sire and Gen. George M. Hermitage of Toronto, San., commanding the patriarchs Militant of the world.

HERRICK TO ATTEMPT TO ELIMINATE GRADE CROSSINGS ON ALL INTERSTATE HIGHWAYS LOCAL OFFICIALS TOLD

An attempt to eliminate the danger of all of the grade crossings on interstate highways and main market roads in Ohio will be made by the State Highway Department next year, Greene County Commissioners were told by Director Leon C. Herrick in Columbus Monday.

Members of the Greene County Board of Commissioners, including G. N. Perrill, R. D. Williamson, and J. A. North with Clerk L. Steinfels, and County Surveyor W. J. Davis conferred with Director Herrick Monday regarding the construction of the Jamestown-Cedarville road, the disposition of money obtained for the construction of the road which will not be needed, and the amount due this county from the state department.

The State Highway Department next year will spend about half of its annual allowance for work in ridding the state of grade crossings. Director Herrick informed the local officials. This work will be carried out in some cases by raising the roads, establishing viaducts over the railroad tracks, and in some cases, will consist of raising the tracks, and running the road under the trains. The work will be carried out as far as possible on all main market roads which come under the control of the state department, in an effort to eliminate all of the grade crossings.

If this work reaches Greene County next year, which is undoubtedly will if Director Herrick's plans are carried out as at present, the work will mean the elimination of railroad crossings that are at present dangerous to motorists and other vehicle drivers. The elimination of the grade crossing in Greene County would mean the passing of the dangerous Jamestown pike crossing of the Pennsylvania railroad, the elimination of the dangerous crossing at Trebins, and on the Dayton pike near Dayton and the elimination of the dangerous crossings south of Springfield, all of which have taken their toll in death and accident, as well as other dangerous crossings in this section of the state that would affect motorists from this county.

It is pointed out however that the dangerous crossing on the Hawkins road, would not be eliminated through this campaign of work, as it is planned only to extend that work to interstate highways and main market roads, and the less important roads would not be affected by the work.

Commissioners are enthusiastic over the announcement of the High-

COMMISSIONERS ASSURED CONSTRUCTION ON JAMESTOWN-CE DARVILLE ROAD WILL BE PUSHED RAPIDLY THIS SUMMER

Cedarville, road, for which the contract was let by the State Highway Department, some time ago, will be pushed rapidly.

Members of the board of Greene County Commissioners, including Commissioners R. D. Williamson, J. A. North and G. N. Perrill, with Clerk L. Steinfels and County Surveyor W. J. Davis, were assured that the work will be started as soon as possible, when they visited State Highway Director Leon C. Herrick in Columbus, Monday.

The county officials went to Columbus to confer with the highway executive in regard to the construction of that road, and to urge immediate action so that the road would not be closed all summer. Director Herrick said he was informed that the contracting firm had been moving machinery to the road preparatory to beginning operations, but that in order to insure an early start and rapid construction, he would instruct the division engineer to push the work as rapidly as possible.

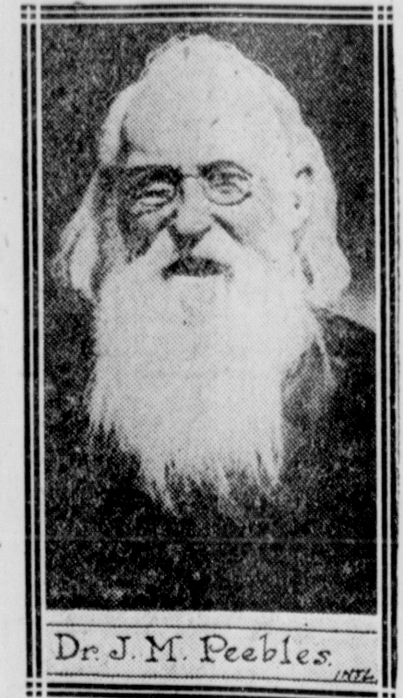

The Greene County officials also asked the advice of the State Highway Director in regard to a plan evolved by the commissioners for taking care of the surplus money acquired to carry on the construction work, and received hearty endorsement of the scheme. At the time the work was advertised, according to law the commissioners issued $138,000 worth of road improvement bonds, the amount based on the estimated cost, to cover the cost of the work, and according to law, to certify that amount as available before the bids were sold for $123,523.16, and as the state pays 50 per cent of the cost, a surplus of approximately $76,000 was left. It was the suggestion of the commissioners that instead of turning this money over to the sinking fund commission and having the money banked at two per cent interest, that bonds be bought with the surplus carrying the same rate of interest, as the bonds carry that were sold by the county. In this way the surplus money will pay the interest on the money in use, and will save the county approximately $4,000 a year, during the life of the bonds, it is claimed.

The commissioners also found on their investigation that the county has a credit of $34,000 with the State Highway Department, which with the surplus state money make a total of $68,000 extra, available for road construction and repair work on main market roads in this county if used this year. Director Herrick urged the county commissioners to take advantage of this fund as it will probably not be available next year, and acting on this suggestion the commissioners will map out a plan of road improvement to be carried out with this money during the summer months.

"I want to highly commend you commissioners on the businesslike methods you pursue," said Director Herrick following the interview. "This commission is one of the few to come here and consult with this department, and it is my hope that other boards of commissioners over the state would act the same way."

Director Herrick invited a consultation with himself on all road problems bothering the commissioners and urged frequent conferences of the nature of Monday's visit.

MORE BONUS CHECKS ARE RECEIVED LOCALLY

The arrival of checks paying ex-service men the Ohio Adjusted Compensation is growing more frequent, according to postal authorities.

Ten bonus checks were received at the post office here for distribution Monday morning, and sixteen found their way into the hands of ex-service men in Xenia and Greene county Saturday.

Checks are not sent out as a while to all ex-service men in any one county, and they have been coming into Greene County in small bunches for several weeks.

CONDUCT SEARCH FOR "MYSTERY" AUTOMOBILE

Akron, April 4.—Search by fire chief John Mertz was being made today for a "mystery" automobile and its occupants who drew up to the vacant house at 856 Lorain Street shortly before the explosion and fire which destroyed the structure at 12:50 this morning.

The explosion practically wrecked the 12 room house. It loosened heavy concrete blocks from beneath the foundation, tearing away part of the front and rear ends and causing the roof to fall in.

Many families were forced to flee from their homes in their night clothing. Fire immediately followed burning up the wreckage.

HELPED HER MOTHER WONDERFULLY.

In these days of "flu," coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough, it is well to know that every year there are used more bottles of Foley's Honey and Tar than of any other cough medicine. Mrs. S. L. Hunt, 515 W. 6th St., Cincinnati, Ohio, writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar relieved me of a hacking cough, tickling in the throat, wheezing and pans in the chest. It is helping my mother wonderfully." That's why druggists recommend Foley's. Sayre & Hemphill.

TOWN IN RHODE ISLAND ELECTS DEMOCRATIC TICKET

Burrillville, R. I., April 4.—Burrillville, one of the few towns in this state holding an election this year, has elected an entire Democratic ticket, it was announced when yesterday's voting was tabulated. This is almost a complete reverse of the election of 1920, when 'with one exception, Republicans were elected town officers, with pluralities averaging 800. The Democratic candidates were yesterday given pluralities averaging 500. Senator John J. McCabe, the only Democrat elected in 1920 was re-elected town clerk with a majority of 963 as compared to the scant margin of 18 in 1920. Out of a possible voting strength of 3,000, more than 2,000 appeared at the polls. The local textile wage and working hours controversy is regarded in a large degree responsible for the voting.

THEY'RE HAULING WOOL IN AUSTRALIA

The wool industry ranks with mining in Australia. Here you see a camel drawn truck bearing a load of wool from the great growing centers to the seaports.

from where the wool is shipped to all sections of the world. It's an odd looking layout, but these camels, remember, don't have to be watered as much as automobiles.

RATIFICATION OF GREATEST PEACE TREATIES IN ALL TIME.

America's final seal of approval was placed on the achievements of the Washington Conference by the Senate last week.

With the ratification in almost record time of the two nine-Power treaties dealing with China the full sheaf of six pacts submitted by President Harding on February 10 now has been approved by the concurrent treaty-making branch of the Government.

Virtual unanimity distinguished the passage of the last pair of treaties. The one "relating to principles and policies to be followed in matters concerning China" was ratified by a vote of 65 to 0.

With the Senate's action, the way is now cleared for ratification of the treaties of Washington by the other signatory Powers. All of them have been awaiting what the incalculable Senate of the United States would do.

All the treaties of Washington take effect "on the date of deposit of all ratifications," which, it is expressly provided, "shall take place at Washington as soon as possible."

Of paramount importance to the United States in that connection will be the deposit of the ratification of the four-Power Pacific pact, which covenants that the Anglo-Japanese alliance shall automatically be terminated with that formality. Barring unforeseen incidents in the capitals of Europe and Asia, there is every likelihood that by May 1, at the latest, the last great act in the world drama staged in Washington in the winter of 1921-22 will have been enacted.

As far as the plight of world of civilized nations can guarantee it, China's night of international spoliation is gone, and the day of a "square deal" for her has come. Her "sovereignty" and her "territorial integrity" are guaranteed by eight great nations.

The program of equal opportunity for commerce and trade is proclaimed anew and solemnly sanctioned. China's right to work out her own political and economic salvation is declared, and nations which in the past played ducks and drakes with China's chaotic fortunes pledge themselves to abandon that practice.

GERMANY BALKS, BUT FRANCE SAYS SHE MUST PAY OR SHE'LL LICK HER.

With Teuton thoroughness Germany has studied the breaking Entente front, listened in on Entente quarrels, taken due note of the return of the world's normal quota of sentimental mush-headedness and has decided that she may with safety balk at the new exactions of the Reparations Commission. Chancellor Wirth, who has been fairly docile, now sees fit to flout the Entente demands, and thereby has stirred up a vast national enthusiasm in Germany.

The commission has asked that Germany tax her people as other war-hurt nations are taxed; that she get down to business in paying the reparations, and that 60,000,000,000 paper marks in additional taxes be levied by May 31. In order to dry up the flood of paper marks now drowning Germany, it is demanded that control of German finance be vested in an Entente commission. The German reply is a defiant refusal.

"France is powerful enough to act alone to enforce execution of the Versailles Treaty, with cannon and bayonet if need be," Louis Dubois, president of the Reparations Commission, declared Thursday at a luncheon of the Union of Commerce and Industry in Paris.

"The mission of the commission," he said, "is merely to figure the amount of reparations due by Germany, to fix the capacity for payment of that country and to refer its findings to the allied Governments, but if France cannot obtain the firm support of its allies, it needs no assistance to obtain reparation."

THE LENTEN SEASON.

It would appear from the sermon themes which are published in the papers each week that many Presbyterian and United Presbyterian and Methodist and Baptist preachers pay a good deal of attention to Lent. At least they seem to be able to weave some reference to it into their sermon announcements. We do not imagine that the observance goes much farther. There does not seem to be among Protestants any disposition to keep the forty days' fast as prescribed in the regulations of the Roman Catholic Church.

The Lenten observance is a curious sort of evolution. There does not seem to have been any recognized season for humiliation and fasting in the Church during the years immediately following the death of the Apostles. It was quite a long time after the apostolic era that this custom of observing forty days of at least partial fasting immediately preceding the Easter Sabbath began to take shape. It is supposed that the forty days were observed in recognition of Christ's fasting for that time in the wilderness. And this observance was placed immediately before the Easter Sabbath, we suppose as being a proper way to remember the sufferings of Jesus which preceded and culminated in His crucifixion.—United Presbyterian.

BUTTONS MADE IN U. S. A.

Ten billion buttons. That was the United States output for the button making industry in 1919. This country was exporting about $500,000 worth of buttons in 1914. By 1920 the value of the buttons exported had jumped to nearly $4,000,000.

The button is a truly democratic article. It varies from the homely button of necessity to the elaborate and handsome buttons for ornamental purpose. Formerly other nations supplied us with most of the buttons we used. Now the United States is doing a good manufacturing and trade business in the self-same commodity, driven to entering the new field by the exigencies of war.

Over a third of all the buttons made in this country are pearl buttons, made from mussel shells, found chiefly in the Mississippi river. There are 579 button factories. Wages paid total $10,000,000.

The question, "Button, button, who's got the button?" takes on a wider significance. This country can make all the buttons required by art and utility. All that is lacking now is the device to keep them forever attached where they belong with out too frequent recourse to the mending basket.

WHERE THE BLOW WILL FALL THE HARDEST

1902--Twenty Years Ago--1922

One of the biggest fires that has occurred in Xenia in recent years broke out last night, shortly before ten o'clock and by it the old cannery factory on Collier street went up in flames. With it was destroyed tobacco to the value of about $6,000 which had been stored in the building.

The temperance meeting held at the school house in district No. 5, on the Fairfield pike beyond Old Town, last night proved a success. Addresses were made by L. M. Garfield, Mr. Little, of the seminary, and Dr. Ben R. McClellan.

A large crowd is expected to go to Dayton tonight to see Julia Marlowe in "When Knighthood was in Flower," at the Victoria theater.

Harry Sparks has returned to Lima after a visit of ten days here.

OLIVER GOLDSMITH

Oliver Goldsmith was born November 10, 1728, at the parsonage of Pallas, County of Longford, Ireland. His father was a minister, his mother the daughter of a minister.

Oliver was the second born in a family of five boys and three girls. His early life was spent on a farm. And so this environment he owed his love of nature, his simplicity of statement, and his sincerity of soul.

I can imagine all farmers having the heart of a poet!

In school, Goldsmith's teachers considered him unusually dull. But as the boy had an imagination not appreciated by those who sought to teach him, he drank into his mind the characteristics of these teachers and later wrote them into his famous poems, and stories.

Goldsmith's mother early believed that she had a genius in Oliver and so she saw to it that he was sent to college. Here he was careless and indolent in his studies but very popular with his associates.

Goldsmith was a failure at teaching, the law, medicine, in fact, everything he attempted—until he began to write. At one period of his life he supported himself by playing the flute, and by taking part in the disputes or debates, at the universities. He was a rambler and a wanderer.

But as he progressed in his writings, the name of Oliver Goldsmith grew in lustre. He was invited into a Literary Club in which were many famous folk, although he was so awkward and ungainly that he felt greatly out of place there. Here it was, however, that he met three of his staunchest admirers and supporters—Dr. Samuel Johnson, Sir Joshua Reynolds and Burke.

Goldsmith was short, sturdy and clumsy in figure, homely in face, yet with an unusual fascination of manner that endeared him to all who really understood him.

It was Dr. Johnson who once said of Goldsmith: "Let not his faults be remembered, he was a very good man." And Washington Irving has commented: "Let them be remembered since their tendency is to be endeared him."

Probably the most noted of Goldsmith's writings are "The Deserted Village," "The Vicar of Wakefield," "The Traveller," and the famous play "She stoops to Conquer."

For pure beauty and grace of expression there have been few poems written comparable to "The Deserted Village." The heart of Goldsmith ripples through its entirety. And the thought which we carry with us longest about Goldsmith is that beauty lives forever!

DR. SCARBOROUGH GIVES ADDRESS ON NEGRO RACE

Dr. W. S. Scarborough, former president of Wilberforce University, Wilberforce, Ohio, and who is now connected with the United States Department, of Agriculture, delivered an address on "Self-Respect and Self-Reliance" during the session of the thirty first annual Tuskegee Negro Conference, at Tuskegee Institute, Alabama, in January, an account of which is given in "The Tuskegee Student" of the issue of Feb. 25.

Dr. Scarborough pointed out in his address the essential elements of progress, of farmers, teachers, doctors, ministers and of every other group in public life.

He stated "that the future of the Negro race was in the hands of the Negro himself, and that it was in the power of the Negro to be just what he wanted to be and his future progress would depend upon the further development of self-respect and self-reliance."

By WALT MASON

EVENING.

The young men are planning great courses they'll run; and I am outspanning, my work nearly done; I'm glad I am aging, the angelus rung; I like not the raging we know when we're young; the fury and passion, the strivings are gone; in indolent fashion, I sit on my lawn; I have no profession, I toil at no trade; I watch the procession, the human parade. I sit in the morning out here by my gate, and offer a warning to many a skate. "The road you are taking," I tell youths, "is wrong; your bones you'll be breaking in mantraps ere long. I know, for I trod it; and now that I'm old I sit here and audit its sorrows untold. At first it is pleasing and bordered with flowers and on you go breezing through sunshiny hours. Alas that you follow that treacherous way! Its promise is hollow, its pleasures decay; oh, turn, I beseech you, for if you persist the bogies will reach you and slay you, I wist." But little they mind me, they vote me a bore; my years are behind me, and theirs are before. All buoyant the friskers walk on in the morn; they look at my whiskers and laugh me to scorn. Some day they'll be sitting, as I'm seated now, worn out by their knitting, or pushing the plow; and they will be sighing, as sinketh the sun, "We're glad that the trying and striving are done."

HABEAS CORPUS WRIT SAVES DOG

For the first time in history a dog has been freed on a writ of habeas corpus. "Buddy" fox terrier companion, and Ed. ward and Herbert Cohen of Chicago galloped into the arms of the dog catcher. The youths did not have $3.50 to pay the "poundman" for the release of "Buddy." They appealed to State's Attorney Crowe, who was sympathetic. Crowe issued the habeas corpus writ and "Buddy" was freed.

That's not the end, but the beginning of one of the most unusual stories of a great foreign author—a story which as it crashes its way along to its climax, will draw you along with it—tense, expectant, spellbound. ## Grounds and Grounding Problems

By WILLIAM G. H. FINCH
Associate Member Institute Radio Engineers

New York, April 4.—It is well known that the earth is a conductor of electricity and is therefore used extensively in nearly all kinds of electrical work, especially that pertaining to signalling. And it has been the means of saving a great amount of money that would otherwise have been spent for wire.

When making use of the water pipe in the house it is advisable and common practice to short circuit the water meter, as shown in Fig. 2, by means of a heavy copper wire.

A good ground and ground connection are of the greatest importance entering into the successful operation of any radio station. The distance a station may transmit or receive is often determined by how efficient its ground system is.

Should there happen to be other pipes in the vicinity of the water pipe to which you are making ground connections it would be advisable to connect them all, as this would increase the efficiency of your ground.

A GROUND FOR FARMERS

It is not so convenient for our farmer cousin to make ground connections. A good ground may be obtained by taking an old wash-boiler and soldering the ground wire to one of the handles or sides and sink it in a river, creek, lake or a discarded well. If none of these facilities are available and you have a cistern or pump solder the wire to the iron pipe.

Buried Grounds.

A fairly good ground may be obtained by burying some metal sheets preferably copper, about ten or twelve feet below the surface of the earth. It is general practice to bury a layer of charcoal or coke, placing the metal sheets on top, then putting another layer of charcoal or coke on top of the metal sheets. This insures a ground connection between the earth and buried metal at all times. Another good way is to drive three or four iron pipes ten feet into the earth and solder a ground wire to them.

Protecting Aerial From Lightning. Generally speaking AERIALS do not attract lightning, but they do store up atmospherical electricity, and of course, this condition does create a hazard. However, when the AERIAL is properly grounded (Fig. 3) it then acts as a lightning rod and really PROTECTS the property from this electrical hazard.

Briefly, the fire underwriters require that the aerial be grounded when not in use by a copper wire no smaller than B. S. Gauge No. 4, or larger, and run said wire as directly as possible to the OUTSIDE ground. (Note—This means that water, gas, or steam pipes inside the property cannot be used for a lightning ground because if ever this ground was called into service there is a possibility that fire and loss of life may result. SO DO NOT USE INSIDE GROUNDS FOR LIGHTNING PROTECTION.)

Fig 3 shows the proper method of ground aerial for lightning protection. The fire underwriters require that, no smaller than a 400-volt, 40 ampere single pole, double throw knife switch be used. The correct way for connecting the switch is shown in Fig. 3. The aerial lead-in wire is connected to the middle terminal of the switch, the wire leading to the instrument is connected to the upper terminal, while ground wire (B. S. W. 4) is connected to the lower terminal and run as directly as possible to the earth. (Switch to be outside of the building.)

MOTHERS AND DAUGHTERS

Read This Letter from Mrs. W. S. Hughes

Greenville, Del.—"I was under the impression that my eldest daughter had some internal trouble as ever since the first time her sickness appeared she had to go to bed and even had to quit school ones for a week. I always take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound myself so I gave it to her and she has received great benefit from it. You can use this letter for a testimonial if you wish, as I cannot say too much about what your medicine has done for me and for my daughter."—Mrs. Wm. S. HUGHES, Greepville, Delaware.

Mothers and oftentimes grandmothers have taken and have learned the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. So they recommend the medicine to others.

The best test of any medicine is what it has done for others. For nearly fifty years we have published letters from mothers, daughters, and women, young and old, recommending the Vegetable Compound. They know what it did for them and are glad to tell others. In your own neighborhood are women who know of its great value.

Abundant vitamin now contained in small yeast tablet

Yeast Foam Tablets are from 4 to 5 times as concentrated as the ordinary baking yeast. The necessary vitamin potency, therefore, is contained in a much smaller dose.

"CONGRATULATE YOU," writes

a well-known physician, "on your new therapeutic yeast. I am sure it will be welcomed by the medical profession and by thousands of people who disliked eating such large quantities of fermentative baking yeast—as well as by countless others who sought in vain for any appreciable tonic benefits in many drug-laden and untested 'vitamin' preparations."

Extraordinary advantages of Yeast Foam Tablets

The only pure whole yeast in easy-to-take tablet form.

They contain no drugs or other ingredients.

They do not form gas nor cause belching.

They are the only pure whole yeast suitable for children; they do not cause fermentation.

Each lot is tested to insure high and uniform vitamin potency.

This yeast supplies what modern foods lack

Yeast Foam Tablets correct a serious deficiency in present day diet by supplying the essential vitamin which is found in many raw foods but which is completely eliminated, in many cases, by the time these same foods reach our table.

This vitamin is necessary to digestion and the conversion of foods into healthy tissue and bodily vigor.

Without sufficient quantity of vitamin your body goes sick and you are only aware of it in such signs as loss of appetite, failing strength and endurance, nervousness, sallow skin and other definite signals of vitamin starvation.

Yeast richest source of vitamin

In the yeast plant is an abundant store of this indispensable vitamin and in Yeast Foam Tablets there is nothing but pure whole yeast (saccharomyces cerevisiae)—millions of these tiny plants being concentrated in each tablet.

The vitamin potency of this new yeast is therefore high and, consequently, its tonic and reconstructive properties are most unusual.

Yeast Foam Tablets are made by the world's largest manufacturers of dry yeast, the makers for 45 years of the famous baking yeasts, Yeast Foam and Magic Yeast.

They are the result of two years of experiment conducted under the guidance of some of the country's leading medical scientists. Recommended by physicians and sold by drug-gists everywhere.

MRS. W. C. HUTCHISON DIES LATE MONDAY AT HOME IN XENIA

The many friends of Mrs. Jennie McClellan Hutchison, 82, wife of W. Clark Hutchison, will be sorry to learn of her death, which occurred at her home on Washington St., Monday evening at 5:10 o'clock. She had long been a sufferer from acute bronchitis, which she bore with Christian patience and resignation.

Mrs. Hutchison was the last of the prominent family of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McClellan, among the earlier residents of this city. She was born May 16, 1839, and spent her entire life in this city, with the exception of a few years she spent with her husband when he was engaged in business in Memphis, Tenn., returning to Xenia when the Civil War made it unsafe to remain longer in that city.

She received her early education in Shawnee Academy, managed by Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Wright in the building now occupied as a residence by John T. Barnett. Her first instructor was the Rev. Samuel Wilson, D. D., with whom she began the study of Latin at the age of seven years, and for whom she always had the highest regard, uniting with the church under his ministry and continuing in the same church, now the Second United Presbyterian. When Shawnee Academy discontinued she was enrolled in 1850 in the Xenia public schools, with Mr. Hutchison being among the first children to attend the newly organized public school system. Mrs. Hutchison graduated in the first class to be graduated from the Xenia Female Seminary under the management of Mrs. Sarah Hanna of Washington, Pa., and a corps of excellent teachers. The building in after years was occupied by the Xenia Theological Seminary.

Mrs. Hutchison was married August 25, 1859 to W. Clark Hutchison and in 1909 Mr. and Mrs. Hutchison celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary jointly with Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Hutchison, who were married the same day. Mrs. Hutchison was a charter member of the staff of the Women's Missionary Magazine, being its editor for 25 years. After it was organized in August 1887. She was also a charter member of the Women's Christian Benevolent Association, now merged into the Social Service League. The McClellan W. C. T. U., and the Mothers' Circle of Oriens Hill school. In all of these organizations she was faithful and conscientious to the end. Although they had no children of their own, they reared Mrs. Lulu McClellan Leeper, of Chicago, a niece and Harry Sparks, of this city, a nephew, with loving care.

Funeral services will be held at the Second United Presbyterian Church, Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock, and burial will be made in Woodland Cemetery. Friends may call at the home on Washington St., between the hours of six and eight, Tuesday evening.

BRINGING UP FATHER

ANSWERED LETTERS

Mary C. "Will you kindly print some good lunch or supper dishes? I can always think of what to have for breakfast or for dinner—but when it comes to lunch or Sunday night supper, I never know what to cook."

Answer: Send me a stamped and self-addressed envelope (not a tiny, or a long, narrow envelope) and I will send you a full-page sheet of recipes I have just had printed up, entitled, "Seven Good Supper Dishes." These you will find suitable for both lunch and supper. I will send this to any Reader who writes for one, provided, of course, they send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

J. K. S. "Please tell me how to renew the appearance of my real leather hand bag. Also how to clean my silver-plated mesh bag without sending it to the factory to be polished?"

Answer: Rub your leather hand bag with neatfoot oil. Sometimes leather is improved by sponging with warm soapy water and rubbing lightly with the white of an egg. The silver mesh bag may be cleaned by placing it in a bright aluminum pan with one table spoon each of salt and baking soda to each quart of hot water used. After boiling the bag in this way for ten minutes, put the bag into another pan, off the range, filled with hot, soapy water to which a drop or two of ammonia has been added. Rinse in clear water, and dry well. Silver cleaned by this method has a dull lustre, which to many women is more attractive than a high polish.

E. C. R. "Will you please print again the Baked Potato Cake recipe you published last Thanksgiving?"

Answer: Baked Potato Cake: Boil and mash 12 medium-sized white potatoes. Put this mashed potato into two bread pans and make a hole in the center of the mound in each pan; into these two holes stir the following ingredients, mixed: 2 eggs, 1 tablespoon of bread crumbs, 1-4 onion chopped finely, 1 tea-cup of butter, 1 teaspoon of salt and 1-8 teaspoon of black pepper. Use half this mixture for each pan of the mashed potato. Butter the top of each "loaf" and bake them 20 minutes in a hot oven. (The chopped onion should be simmered on the range in a little butter not browned—until almost tender, before being added to the above ingredients.)

Mrs. C. D. "Can you tell me how to clean fibre rug? The color is white, and green and the white is soiled."

Answer: Scrub the rug with salty water, using a small, soft bristled nail brush to do the work. If no salt were used in the water, the light parts of the rug would turn yellow. One cup of salt to a gallon of water is about the right combination to use.

Mrs. E. M. "Please tell me what to do about my window panes, which seem to have something like oil on the outside. I have tried washing them with gasoline, but without success."

Answer: Try washing them with hot water to which you have added a generous amount of ammonia and suds from naphtha soap. A good sand-soap would also help.

Mrs. U. "Can one resilver a mirror at home?"

Answer: No, it must be sent to a factory to have this done. Tomorrow—Easy Menus for the New Maid's First Week.

The window is in the office, and adjacent to the alley. Charles Phillips, merchant police, was attracted to the scene by the crash of glass, without entering the store. ### TOM MEETS GERTIE'S MOTHER CHAPTER 9

"Tom says he will take us home, Lilly, if you like to go," Gertie said as Lilly joined them at the entrance. "You bet I'll like it! It ain't often I get such a swell chance."

Tom heard and wished the girls wouldn't say "swell" so often. He wondered if he spoke to Gertie about it if it would offend her.

"Better wait until you know her better," he said to himself "it might hurt her feelings—poor kid!" Then: "All aboard! It's a tight squeeze, but this little roadster has carried three before."

"Little" Lilly repeated disdaining his description. And the long, rakish, high-powered roadster did give an impression of size.

Lilly told Gertie afterward she was hoping he'd offer to take them up Riverside Drive. But he took them directly home and stood on the walk with uncovered head until they went in. He had reminded Gertie he would be there the next day—Sunday, at 2 o'clock to meet her mother; afterward they would go for their drive.

"As if I could forget if I tried to," she had said to herself.

"That you Gertie?" her mother called as she went in— "Who was you talkin' to?"

"Tom brought us home, me and Lilly, in that same car he took me riding in— And ma! he's coming to see you tomorrow."

"To see me! What for?" Genuine amazement in her voice. What could this young man want of her?

"He says he wants to know you. I told him things about you—I guess that was it—how you asked me not to smoke—and things."

"Well, get to bed child! We'll all have to get up early to set things to rights before he gets here. The children will have to get their baths and tidy up. What time's he comin'?"

"As if I could forget if I tried to," she had said to herself.

"That you Gertie?" her mother called as she went in— "Who was you talkin' to?"

one could trust. But what did Gertie know about men? If she wasn't so poor she could keep her child home, away from that cabaret. It was too bad Gertie didn't have an education, then she could be a clerk in a store, or a stenographer in an office—that was what Jennie was going to be. And Gertie was so good—so generous.

"Dear God, don't let her go wrong," the mother prayed, then having laid her troubles before Him, she slept for a couple of hours before the day's duties began.

The family was up betimes, although the children grumbled a bit because they were routed out so early. Mrs. Cummings let them sleep a little later on Sunday's all but Tim who must get out with his papers.

Such a cleaning and polishing as went on, Jennie was almost as excited as Gertie over Tom's expected visit. She would wear the new dress. Gertie would want them all to look nice. In a way her attendance at school, denied Gertie had made Jennie rather of an oracle, in the family. Teacher says this, or teacher says that, was taken as gospel by all of them.

Tim was cautioned to come home, not to stop to play marbles. He too must be dressed up.

Promptly at 2 o'clock the honk-honk of a machine was heard.

"He's comin'! He's comin'!" Anna aged 7 called excitedly, her little round, snub-nose face pressed against the window pane.

"Come away from there! Ain't you got no manners?" her mother said, smoothing her white apron. Mrs. Cummings never was at ease without an apron.

Gertie opened the door to Tom. Her cheeks flaming. What would he think of the poor room that served for kitchen, dining room and parlor all in one?

"Come in, Tom. Ma, this is Tom. And she's Jennie, and that's Anna, Tim, come and speak to Tom." She heaved a sigh, perfectly audible, when the introductions were over. Never had she gone through such a terrifying experience.

"I am so glad to meet you Mrs. Cummings," Tom extended his hand, which she shook heartily. "It was good of you to let me come. What a nice family you have." He seemed perfectly at ease. Gertie ceased to feel embarrassed.

"They are nice children; God be praised," Mrs. Cummings returned.

AD CAMPAIGNS ARE SWEEPING COUNTRY

Chicago April 4.—National advertising campaigns in newspapers are sweeping the country, F. Guy Davis, Western manager of the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, declared in a speech yesterday.

"Business houses that never before used extensive newspaper space are doubling and tripling their newspaper space appropriations for this year," he said.

"This has grown, not from propaganda but from the necessities of the present-day business situation."

FESS WILL ENTER RACE IN TEN DAYS

Washington, April 4.—Congressman Simeon D. Fess, of Yellow Springs Ohio yesterday said that he would make formal announcement of his candidacy for the Republican nomination for United States Senate within the next 10 days.

Dr. Fess said that prospects of Republican victory in Ohio were increasing and that he was confident of his own nomination and election. He showed letters from 56 of the 88 Republican County Chairmen urging him to enter the race in response to a letter sent by him asking for advice as to his availability.

Ralph D. Cole, of Findlay, former member of Congress and Senatorship and Governorship aspirant said Dr. Fess that the latter's nomination seemed to be a foregone conclusion.

William found a pocketbook But the string jerked it back

It looked like a happy discovery as it lay there on the sidewalk—until the discoverer reached to pick it up. Then the hidden string jerked it away. All William got was disappointment.

That's the way a good many people have found it to be with the comfort and cheer they thought they had secured in tea and coffee. When they came to depend on it—there was a hidden string, and nothing left but disappointment.

The drug, caffeine, in tea and coffee, is a nerve stimulant. Constant stimulation of the nerves often produces rebellion that takes the form of sleeplessness, headaches, irritability, high blood pressure. That's the string to tea and coffee.

Postum, that wholesome and delightful cereal beverage, is completely satisfying and there's no harmful quality whatsoever, to jerk away the comfort which you find in this splendid table drink. Any member of the family may enjoy Postum with any meal—and there will be no after-regrets.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes. Sold by grocers.

"My trouble began by a breaking out of small pimples on my forehead and scalp. The pimples feasted and itched and burned causing me to scratch and irritate the affected parts. My hair fell out and my face was disfigured for the time being. I lost my rest on account of the irritation."

"The trouble lasted for years. I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment which helped me so I bought more and now I am healed." (Signed) Miss Ethel Adkins, Orblinton, Ohio, Aug. 19, 1921.

SAVE Natural Gas

Have You a Little Gas Leak in Your Home?

Gas men know how difficult it is to keep a gas line tight. This company spends hundreds of thousands of dollars doing that every year.

Are you sure the lines in your house are gas tight? Look them over. Examine all couplings. Maybe your nose will know. Try it that way first. Put soap suds over the connection. If it bubbles, gas is escaping. Don't hunt for leaks with fire. If you suspect any, call the pipe fitter.

Costs money to call him? Of course it does. But it costs you more money to let the leak go. You are paying for the gas that goes through the meter, and if it leaks out you spend your money for nothing.

Don't Waste It

Besides, a leak wastes Nature's best fuel. The time has come when we must conserve gas if we are to continue to enjoy it. It is getting harder to obtain all the time. Many fields are exhausted.

Unless real conservation is practiced, the price of gas must go higher and higher, until it equals manufactured in price.

For your own sake, therefore, that you may have this wonderful fuel for gas to come at fair prices, don't waste it!

Save gas—and thereby save your money and continue its convenience for years to come.
